

Paper Sampler

(art + social studies)

Original alphabet samplers were popular during the 19th century. England, Holland and Germany influenced the trend. Early samplers were embroidered on linen or canvas made specifically for needlepoint. The alphabets varied in styles although script and block were the most popular. Every sampler was different and made by the designer. The designs had borders, dates and illustrations.

The art paper sampler in this lesson plan celebrates the unique qualities of paper available for artists. Students are required to select 26 different papers, combine them with a letter and add an art technique for enhancement. Techniques also demonstrate the use of mediums on specific paper.

Grade Levels 5-8

Process

1. To accommodate all twenty six letters, the background needs to be firm and fairly large. The papyrus sheet is a good size (substitute with mat board). Consider only four to five art techniques for the letters. To make sure each letter is a different paper, combine with papers such as magazine illustrations, newspapers, etc. Papers in this lesson plan are large sized papers and can be shared with 30-36 students.
2. Review the projects done in past classes. Use these designs to enhance the letters. Make each letter close to 3" x 4" in size.
3. Spread a thin layer of Weldbond glue on all the letters then apply to background.

Options

- Look up monograms and mottos for less detailed project.
- Have young children (K-5) make an alphabet, cut it up and mount on mat board. Use markers or crayons.
