Exposure controls Ventilation and engineering measures

Use only in well-ventilated areas. Apply technical measures to comply with the occupational exposure limits. Where reasonably practicable this should be achieved by the use of local exhaust ventilation and good general extraction. In case of insufficient ventilation wear suitable respiratory equipment.

Not required under normal use. If airborne concentrations are above the permissible exposure limits or are not known, respiratory protection may be required. The filter class for the respirator must be suitable for the maximum expected contaminant concentration (gas/vapor/aerosol/particulates) that may arise when handling the product. If this concentration is exceeded, self-contained breathing apparatus must be used. The type of respiratory protection will depend on the conditions of use.

Skin Protection Eye Protection

Respiratory protection

Gloves impervious to the material are recommended. Safety glasses with side-shields; Tightly fitting safety goggles.

Ensure that eyewash stations and safety showers are close to the workstation location.

General hygiene considerations

Avoid breathing fumes. Avoid contact with skin, eyes and clothing. Handle in accordance with good industrial hygiene and safety practice. Do not eat, drink or smoke when using this product. Upon completion of work, wash hands before eating, drinking, smoking or use of toilet facilities.
