

ColoRit Color Formula Guide

Our ColoRit Color Formula Guide contains our archived formulas for mixing over 500 colors using Rit Dye's core colors sold in stores and online. Each page features a complete palette of shades in that color group with instructions on how to achieve true color dyeing with these formulas on page two of this guide. Have fun mixing and enjoy your colorful creations!

The color formulas featured in the ColorIt Color Formula Guide were developed using a low water immersion method of dyeing. Small quantities of liquid dyes, with the exception of Pearl Grey which was only available in powder at the time these recipes were created, were mixed with 1 cup of very hot water and used to color a 12" x 12" piece of cotton broadcloth fabric. Before dyeing, read these steps for achieving a true color.

What May Affect Your Dye Results

Fiber Content – Colors shown are for cotton. Other fabrics, such as rayon, silk, wool, and nylon, dye beautifully, but the same dye color may appear lighter or darker, depending upon the fiber content.

Weight of the Article – This determines how much dye to use. Our recipes are based on dyeing one ounce of fabric. To dye more fabric, increase the dye measurements specified in a color recipe. Refer to the guidelines below.

Amount of Dye – The weight of the article determines how much dye is needed. In general, using more dye will result in darker, brighter shades.

Amount of Water – Low water immersion dyeing uses small amounts of water, which results in marbled effects with light and dark shading. To achieve an even color while dyeing, the amount of water used to dye will have to be increased.

Water Temperature – To obtain the deepest color possible, use the hottest water that is safe for your fabric. We recommend a temperature of at least 140°F. If your tap water is not hot enough, heat water in a teakettle or the microwave.

Dyeing Time – The longer the fabric is in the dye bath, the deeper and darker the color will be.

Steps for Achieving True Color

Prewash fabric or article to remove any finishes that prevent absorption of the dyes and prepare dye bath following instructions on scaling formulas below. Select a dyeing technique. Amount of water needed will depend upon the method of dyeing. Small amounts of fabric can be dyed using the low water immersion or microwave method. Before dyeing, dip test strip of fabric or piece of paper towel in dye bath to check color. If color is too light, add more dye; if it is too dark, add more water.

Scaling Up the Formula for Larger Dye Quantities

If possible, weigh your fabric or article using a food scale. Formulas were created using a swatch of fabric weighing about one ounce. If the article to be dyed weighs 8 ounces (men's adult large t-shirt), then multiply the amount of dye needed by 8. If your article weighs 16 ounces, multiply by 16.

Original Recipe #84 (Golden Brown)	(multiply by 8)	New Recipe
1 tbsp Golden Yellow		8 tbsp (1/2 cup) Golden Yellow
1/4 tsp Cocoa Brown		2 tsp. Cocoa Brown
1 cup hot water		2 quarts (8 cups) hot water for mottled effect - or - 2 gallons for more even color

Original Recipe #84 (Golden Brown)	(multiply by 16)	New Recipe
1 tbsp Golden Yellow		16 tbsp (1 cup) Golden Yellow
1/4 tsp Cocoa Brown		4 tsp Cocoa Brown
1 cup hot water		4 quarts (16 cups) hot water or 3 gallons for more even color

Helpful Measurement Equivalents
3 tsp	=	1 tbsp
4 tbsp	=	1/4 cup
5-1/3 tbsp	=	1/3 cup
16 tbsp	=	1 cup
8 ounces	=	1 cup
2 cups	=	1 pint
4 cups	=	1 quart
4 quarts	=	1 gallon

For Optimal Color Intensity

When dyeing cotton, rayon, linen and ramie, add 1 cup salt to the dye bath. For smaller dye baths, add 1/2 cup salt.

When dyeing nylon, silk and wool, add 1 cup white vinegar to the dye bath. For smaller dye baths, add 1/2 cup white vinegar.
